Approved For Release 1999/09/08 : CIA-RDP82-00457R000390780001-6 FUN CONFICENTIAL

25X1A2g

SUBJECT Political Information: Repatriation of Manchards Soviets through Take 25X1X6  25X1A6a PAGES 1 SUPPLEMENT  25X1X6  The was previously reported in that a group of Soviets including reported in workers, comercial representatives, ex-soldiers; and civilians were learned with and were forced to evacuate. The "consoldiers" were Soviet army personne had remained behind when the Soviet trops withdrew. There were also some Soviet army deserters who had overconts over their shoulders to hide the that their hands were forced to evacuate the formation over their shoulders to hide the that their hands were the behind their backs.  2. One company of Chinese troops with four machine guns quarded the group for stated purpose of protecting them from attack from the outside. The Soviet end divided into smaller groups of five, under the control of a trusted entire to prevent contact with outsiders.  3. One of the evacues, Vasily Nikolaevich Orlov, a former teacher in Harbin suicide by hanging himself with a steep in the train lavatory. He had be taunted by other travelers about how his account would be settled when the reached the USSR.
SUBJECT Political Information: Repatriation of Mancharia  25X1A6a  25X1A6a  25X1X6  PAGES 1  SUPPLEMENT  25X1X6  The was previously reported in that a group of Soviets including resorders, cornercial representatives, exceldiers, and civilians were lower Mancharia by a Soviet ship which had arrived at Taku on 1 December 1946.7  1. Thirty of the civilians were former emigrants who had been employed in Mancharia by a Soviet ship which had arrived at Taku on 1 December 1946.7  1. Thirty of the civilians were former emigrants who had been employed in Mancharia dearnained behind when the Soviet troops withdraw. There were also some Soviet army deserters who had overcoats over their shoulders to hide the that their hands were tied behind their backs.  2. One company of Chinese troops with four machine guns quarded the group for stated purpose of protecting them from attack from the outside. The Soviet were divided into smaller groups of fire, under the control of a trusted citizen to prevent contact with outsiders.  3. One of the ovacuese, Vasily Nikolaevich Orlov, a former teacher in Marbin smicide by hangling himself with a strep in the train lavatory. He had be taunted by other travelers about how his account would be settled when the reached the USSR.
SUBJECT Political Information: Repatriation of Mancharia Soviets through Take  25X1A6a  ORIGIN  25X1X6  PAGES 1 SUPPLEMENT  25X1X6  The was previously reported in that a group of Soviets including resorders, comercial representatives, ex-soldiers, and civilians were lower Mancharia by a Soviet ship which had arrived at Take on 1 December 1946. Thirty of the civilians were former emigrants who had been employed in Mancharia were forced to evacuate. The "ex-soldiers" were Soviet away personne had remained behind when the Soviet troops withdrew. There were also som Soviet away deserters who had overcoats over their shoulders to hide the that their hands were tied behind their backs.  2. One company of Chinese troops with four machine guns marded the group for stated purpose of protecting them from attack from the outside. The Sovi were divided into smaller groups of five, under the control of a trusted citizen to prevent contact with outsiders.  3. One of the ovacuaes, Vasily Mikolaevich Orlov, a former teacher in Marbin suicide by hangding himself with a strep in the train lavatory. He had be taunted by other traveleys shout how his account would be settled when the reached the USSR.
25X1A6a  ORIGIN  25X1X6  The was previously reported in that a group of Soviets including resorders, commercial representatives, ex-soldiers, and civilians were invested to the civilians were former emigrants who had been employed in the and were forced to evacuate. The "ex-soldiers" were Soviet away personne had remained behind when the Soviet troops withdrew. There were also some Soviet away describes who had overcosts over their shoulders to hide the that their hands were tied behind their backs.  2. One company of Chinese troops with four machine guns quarded the group for stated purpose of protecting them from attack from the outside. The Soviet were divided into smaller groups of five, under the control of a trusted citizen to prevent contact with outsiders.  3. One of the ovacues, Vasily Nikolaevich Orlov, a former teacher in Harbin suicide by hanging himself with a strep in the train layatory. He had be taumted by other travelers about how his account would be settled when the reached the USOR.	1.7
The was previously reported in that a group of Soviets including reporters, comercial representatives, ex-soldiers, and civilians were lower hanchuria by a Soviet ship which had arrived at Taku on 1 December 1946.  1. Thirty of the civilians were former emigrants who had been employed in humand were forced to evacuate. The "ex-soldiers" were Soviet army personne had remained behind when the Soviet troops withdrew. There were also some Soviet army deserters who had overcents over their shoulders to hide the that their hands were tied behind their backs.  2. One company of Chinese troops with four machine guns quarded the group for stated purpose of protecting them from attack from the outside. The Soviet were divided into smaller groups of five, under the control of a trusted citizen to prevent contact with outsiders.  3. One of the overcess, Vasily Bikolaevich Orlov, a former teacher in Harbin suicide by hanging himself with a strep in the train lavatory. He had be taunted by other travelers about how his account would be settled when the reached the USSR.	~•
Tit was previously reported in that a group of Soviets including r workers, commercial representatives, ex-soldiers, and civilians were 1000.  25X1X6 Manchuria by a Soviet ship which had arrived at Taku on 1 December 1946.  1. Thirty of the civilians were former emigrants who had been employed in Lu and were forced to evacuate. The "ex-soldiers" were Soviet army personne had remained behind when the Soviet troops withdrew. There were also some Soviet army deserters who had overcosts over their shoulders to hide the that their hands were tied behind their backs.  2. One company of Chinese troops with four machine guns quarded the group for stated purpose of protecting them from attack from the outside. The Sovi were divided into smaller groups of five, under the control of a trusted citizen to prevent contact with outsiders.  3. One of the evacuese, Vasily Bikolasvich Orlov, a former teacher in Harbin suicide by hanging himself with a strep in the train lavatory. He had be taunted by other travelers about how his account would be settled when the reached the USOR.
25X1X6  Workers, commercial representatives, ex-soldiers, and civilians were love. Manchuria by a Soviet ship which had arrived at Taku on 1 December 1946. It is and were forced to evacuate. The "ex-soldiers" were Soviet army personned had remained behind when the Soviet troops withdrew. There were also some Soviet army deserters who had overcoats over their shoulders to hide the that their hands were tied behind their backs.  2. One company of Chinese troops with four machine guns guarded the group for stated purpose of protecting them from attack from the outside. The Soviet were divided into smaller groups of five, under the control of a trusted citizen to prevent contact with outsiders.  3. One of the evacuess, Vasily Nikolaevich Orlov, a former teacher in Marbin suicide by hanging himself with a strep in the train lavatory. He had be taunted by other travelers about how his account would be settled when the reached the USSR.
25X1X6 Manchuria by a Soviet ship which had arrived at Taku on 1 December 1946.  1. Thirty of the civilians were former emigrants who had been employed in Mu and were forced to evacuate. The "ex-soldiers" were Soviet army personne had remained behind when the Soviet troops withdrew. There were also some Soviet army deserters who had overcoats over their shoulders to hide the that their hands were tied behind their backs.  2. One company of Chinese troops with four machine guns guarded the group for stated purpose of protecting them from attack from the outside. The Soviet were divided into smaller groups of five, under the control of a trusted citizen to prevent contact with outsiders.  3. One of the evacuese, Vasily Mikolaevich Orlov, a former teacher in Harbing suicide by hanging himself with a strep in the train lawatory. He had be taunted by other travelers about how his account would be settled when the reached the USSR.
25X1X6  Workers, commercial representatives, ex-soldiers, and civilians were love. Manchuria by a Soviet ship which had arrived at Taku on 1 December 1946. It is and were forced to evacuate. The "ex-soldiers" were Soviet army personned had remained behind when the Soviet troops withdrew. There were also some Soviet army deserters who had overcoats over their shoulders to hide the that their hands were tied behind their backs.  2. One company of Chinese troops with four machine guns guarded the group for stated purpose of protecting them from attack from the outside. The Soviet were divided into smaller groups of five, under the control of a trusted citizen to prevent contact with outsiders.  3. One of the evacuess, Vasily Nikolaevich Orlov, a former teacher in Marbin suicide by hanging himself with a strep in the train lavatory. He had be taunted by other travelers about how his account would be settled when the reached the USSR.
25X1X6  Workers, commercial representatives, ex-soldiers, and civilians were love. Manchuria by a Soviet ship which had arrived at Taku on 1 December 1946. It is and were forced to evacuate. The "ex-soldiers" were Soviet army personned had remained behind when the Soviet troops withdrew. There were also some Soviet army deserters who had overcoats over their shoulders to hide the that their hands were tied behind their backs.  2. One company of Chinese troops with four machine guns guarded the group for stated purpose of protecting them from attack from the outside. The Soviet were divided into smaller groups of five, under the control of a trusted citizen to prevent contact with outsiders.  3. One of the evacuess, Vasily Nikolaevich Orlov, a former teacher in Marbin suicide by hanging himself with a strep in the train lavatory. He had be taunted by other travelers about how his account would be settled when the reached the USSR.
25X1X6 Manchuria by a Soviet ship which had arrived at Taku on 1 December 1946.  1. Thirty of the civilians were former emigrants who had been employed in Mu and were forced to evacuate. The "ex-soldiers" were Soviet army personne had remained behind when the Soviet troops withdrew. There were also some Soviet army deserters who had overcoats over their shoulders to hide the that their hands were tied behind their backs.  2. One company of Chinese troops with four machine guns guarded the group for stated purpose of protecting them from attack from the outside. The Soviet were divided into smaller groups of five, under the control of a trusted citizen to prevent contact with outsiders.  3. One of the evacuese, Vasily Mikolaevich Orlov, a former teacher in Harbing suicide by hanging himself with a strep in the train lawatory. He had be taunted by other travelers about how his account would be settled when the reached the USSR.
25X1X6  Workers, commercial representatives, ex-soldiers, and civilians were love. Manchuria by a Soviet ship which had arrived at Taku on 1 December 1946. It is and were forced to evacuate. The "ex-soldiers" were Soviet army personned had remained behind when the Soviet troops withdrew. There were also some Soviet army deserters who had overcoats over their shoulders to hide the that their hands were tied behind their backs.  2. One company of Chinese troops with four machine guns guarded the group for stated purpose of protecting them from attack from the outside. The Soviet were divided into smaller groups of five, under the control of a trusted citizen to prevent contact with outsiders.  3. One of the evacuess, Vasily Nikolaevich Orlov, a former teacher in Marbin suicide by hanging himself with a strep in the train lavatory. He had be taunted by other travelers about how his account would be settled when the reached the USSR.
25X1X6  Workers, commercial representatives, ex-soldiers, and civilians were love. Manchuria by a Soviet ship which had arrived at Taku on 1 December 1946. It is and were forced to evacuate. The "ex-soldiers" were Soviet army personned had remained behind when the Soviet troops withdrew. There were also some Soviet army deserters who had overcoats over their shoulders to hide the that their hands were tied behind their backs.  2. One company of Chinese troops with four machine guns guarded the group for stated purpose of protecting them from attack from the outside. The Soviet were divided into smaller groups of five, under the control of a trusted citizen to prevent contact with outsiders.  3. One of the evacuess, Vasily Nikolaevich Orlov, a former teacher in Marbin suicide by hanging himself with a strep in the train lavatory. He had be taunted by other travelers about how his account would be settled when the reached the USSR.
25X1X6 Manchuria by a Soviet ship which had arrived at Taku on 1 December 1946.7  1. Thirty of the civilians were former emigrants who had been employed in Mu and were forced to evacuate. The "ex-soldiers" were Soviet army personne had remained behind when the Soviet troops withdrew. There were also some Soviet army deserters who had overcoats over their shoulders to hide the that their hands were tied behind their backs.  2. One company of Chinese troops with four machine guns guarded the group for stated purpose of protecting them from attack from the outside. The Soviet were divided into smaller groups of five, under the control of a trusted citizen to prevent contact with outsiders.  3. One of the evacuess, Vasily Mikolaevich Orlov, a former teacher in Harbin suicide by hanging himself with a strep in the train lawatory. He had be taunted by other travelers about how his account would be settled when the reached the USSR.	ailroad and were forced to evacuate. The "ex-soldiers" were Soviet army personne had remained behind when the Soviet troops withdrew. There were also some Soviet army deserters who had overcoats over their shoulders to hide the that their hands were tied behind their backs.  2. One company of Chinese troops with four machine guns guarded the group for stated purpose of protecting them from attack from the outside. The Soviet were divided into smaller groups of five, under the control of a trusted citizen to prevent contact with outsiders.  3. One of the evacuess, Vasily Mikolaevich Orlov, a former teacher in Marbin suicide by hangling himself with a strep in the train lawatory. He had be taunted by other travelers about how his account would be settled when the reached the USSR.
Soviet army deserters who had overcoats over their shoulders to hide the that their hands were tied behind their backs.  2. One company of Chinese troops with four machine guns guarded the group fo stated purpose of protecting them from attack from the outside. The Sovi were divided into smaller groups of five, under the control of a trusted citizen to prevent contact with outsiders.  3. One of the evacuese, Vasily Nikolaevich Orlov, a former teacher in Harbin suicide by hangling himself with a strep in the train lavatory. He had be taunted by other travelers about how his account would be settled when the reached the USSR.	kden
Soviet army deserters who had overcoats over their shoulders to hide the that their hands were tied behind their backs.  2. One company of Chinese troops with four machine guns guarded the group fo stated purpose of protecting them from attack from the outside. The Sovi were divided into smaller groups of five, under the control of a trusted citizen to prevent contact with outsiders.  3. One of the evacuess, Vasily Nikolaevich Orlov, a former teacher in Harbin suicide by hanging himself with a strep in the train lavatory. He had be taunted by other travelers about how his account would be settled when the reached the USSR.	L who
<ol> <li>One company of Chinese troops with four machine guns guarded the group for stated purpose of protecting them from attack from the outside. The Sovi were divided into smaller groups of five, under the control of a trusted citizen to prevent contact with outsiders.</li> <li>One of the evacuees, Vasily Mikolaevich Orlov, a former teacher in Marbin suicide by hanging himself with a strep in the train lawatory. He had be taunted by other travelers about how his account would be settled when the reached the USSR.</li> </ol>	fact stated purpose of protecting them from attack from the outside. The Sovi were divided into smaller groups of five, under the control of a trusted citizen to prevent contact with outsiders.  3. One of the evacuees, Vasily Nikolaevich Orlov, a former teacher in Harbin suicide by hanging himself with a strep in the train lawatory. He had be taunted by other travelers about how his account would be settled when the reached the USSR.	1 1 1
were divided into smaller groups of five, under the control of a trusted citizen to prevent contact with outsiders.  3. One of the evacuess, Vasily Nikolaevich Orlov, a former teacher in Harbin suicide by hanging himself with a strep in the train lawatory. He had be taunted by other travelers about how his account would be settled when the reached the USSR.	r the ste
3. One of the evacuees, Vasily Nikolaevich Orlov, a former teacher in Harbin suicide by hanging himself with a strep in the train lavatory. He had be taunted by other travelers about how his account would be settled when the reached the USSR.
suicide by hanging himself with a strep in the train lawatory. He had be taunted by other travelers about how his account would be settled when the reached the USSR.
taunted by other travelers about how his account would be settled when the reached the USGR.	, commi
	y
23/1/0
4. The Soviet citizens of Tientsin, Babashkin and Dr. Duchinsky, applied to	the
Consul for passage on the ship "Gogol" carrying the evacuees and were told weit until next year when routin shipping would be established and all w	1 EO _
desired to leave could do so.	70
5. Rumors, reportedly originating from Soviet consular officials, are prevalent	ent to the effect that a part of the Soviet colony will be evacuated by Lay or year. It is said that only those necessary technically to Soviet Consular activities will be allowed to remain and will be under consular protection	)
Document No. 001
NO CHANGE in Class.   DECLASSINTED	I
Class. CHANGED TO: TS S C
5X1A9appa Mene, i Apr 77
luth: DBA DAR 77/1763	A8a
Date: 4 March 1978 Dy: 027

FBX SPDT C°CB 25X1A9a
Approved ForeRelease 1999/09/08 CFA-RDP82-00457R000300780001-6

DADSO

EXEC. CONTROL PLANS

FBK

SPDA